

MEDIA STUDIES MIDTERM PROJECT

DUE DATE: FRIDAY, JANUARY 22, 2010

For your media studies midterm, you will be creating an autobiographical video depicting your life. The project can show an average day in your life, can have both fictional and non-fictional elements, and contain interviews with family and friends. All projects should be rated PG and contain no inappropriate language, references, and images. You may use the computers in the tech center to edit your project. You may have some opportunities to work on your project during class, but plan on using time before or after school and/or your study hall to complete the finished project. All movies should be 4 –7 minutes in length.

Your final project is worth 20% of your semester 1 grade and will be graded on the following elements:

NAME:

Filming/Footage 20%
